FOREWORD

When we found ourselves at the threshold of Woburn High School, we were at the beginning of an experience that was to be fun and laughter, tears and sorrows, work and accomplishments. From the beginning we were cognizant of that goal which was our aim. We have travelled the long road leading to this goal—the end of our high school years.

Along the way we have experienced satisfaction in work and activities — completed insurmountable stacks of homework and financed proms from money we almost didn't have. We have lived all our days in anticipation of the future.

But now what was once a distant dream has become a reality. The future has become the present. The end, the achievement, has arrived. We have come a long way down that road, and now, glancing backward in retrospect, we remember the beginning of this experience and hope that our future goals may be achieved as successfully. We are confident of this because we believe that "Education is the Key to Accomplishments."

In Memoriam

OREL M. BEAN
Woburn High School Principal 1916 — 1951

Fifty-four years ago a young graduate of Bates College in Lewiston, Maine, came to Woburn to begin his teaching career. This native of Freeport, Maine, was Orel M. Bean, who was to become a part of the Woburn school system for over forty years.

After completing graduate studies at Harvard and Boston University, Mr. Bean was appointed to a teaching position at Woburn High School. Here the faculty knew him as an excellent educator; the students regarded him as a patient and discerning teacher, who constantly urged them to better themselves and thereby better their school.

In 1916 Mr. Bean was named principal of the high school, a post that he was to hold until his retirement in 1951. During these years many changes had to be effected in the school, and they were accomplished under his able direction.

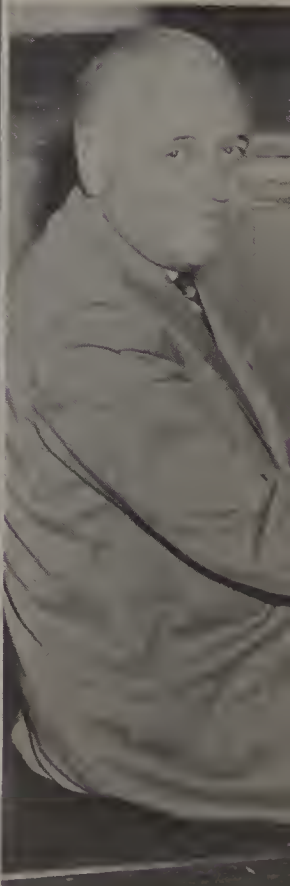

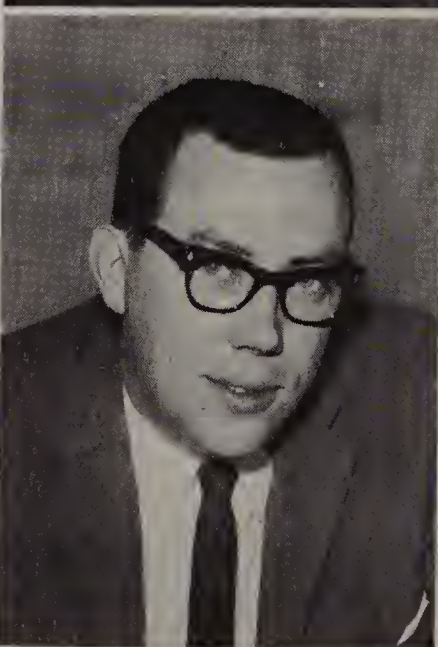

We are told, however, that when one reflects on the memory of Mr. Bean, the image recalled is that of a mild-mannered man who possessed an admirable type of discipline. Severe, indeed; yet somehow this discipline did result in friendships in later life with those pupils upon whom he felt it necessary to impose his authority.

At the time of his death on February 17, 1964, many of his former students remembered him as a person who was always concerned with the welfare of the school; he viewed its future optimistically; he admired the courage, imagination, and energy of youth.

The "old" Woburn High School

ADMINISTRATION
AND FACULTY

Dr. J. Frank Hassett
Superintendent of Schools

SUPERINTENDENT AND ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

Since November of 1945, J. Frank Hassett has been our superintendent of schools. Dr. Hassett received his education at Holy Cross College, graduating in 1930 with a Bachelor of Philosophy degree. In 1957 he received the degree of Doctor of Education. Because of his diligence and his excellent educational background, Dr. Hassett has led the Woburn School Department through nineteen years of advancement in educational facilities.

For the past two years Dr. Hassett has been aided by our assistant superintendent of schools, Jerome J. Lynch, who is indeed a busy man, spending some of his time traveling from school to school and observing any problems that may exist. At other times Mr. Lynch can be found working closely with Dr. Hassett in the Administration Building on Main Street.

Dr. Hassett and Mr. Lynch have formed a team that works constantly and untiringly to accomplish the daily tasks of administering a growing school system.

Dr. Hassett and Mr. Lynch discuss some of the problems of our school system.

PRINCIPAL AND ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS

Henry D. Blake, Principal

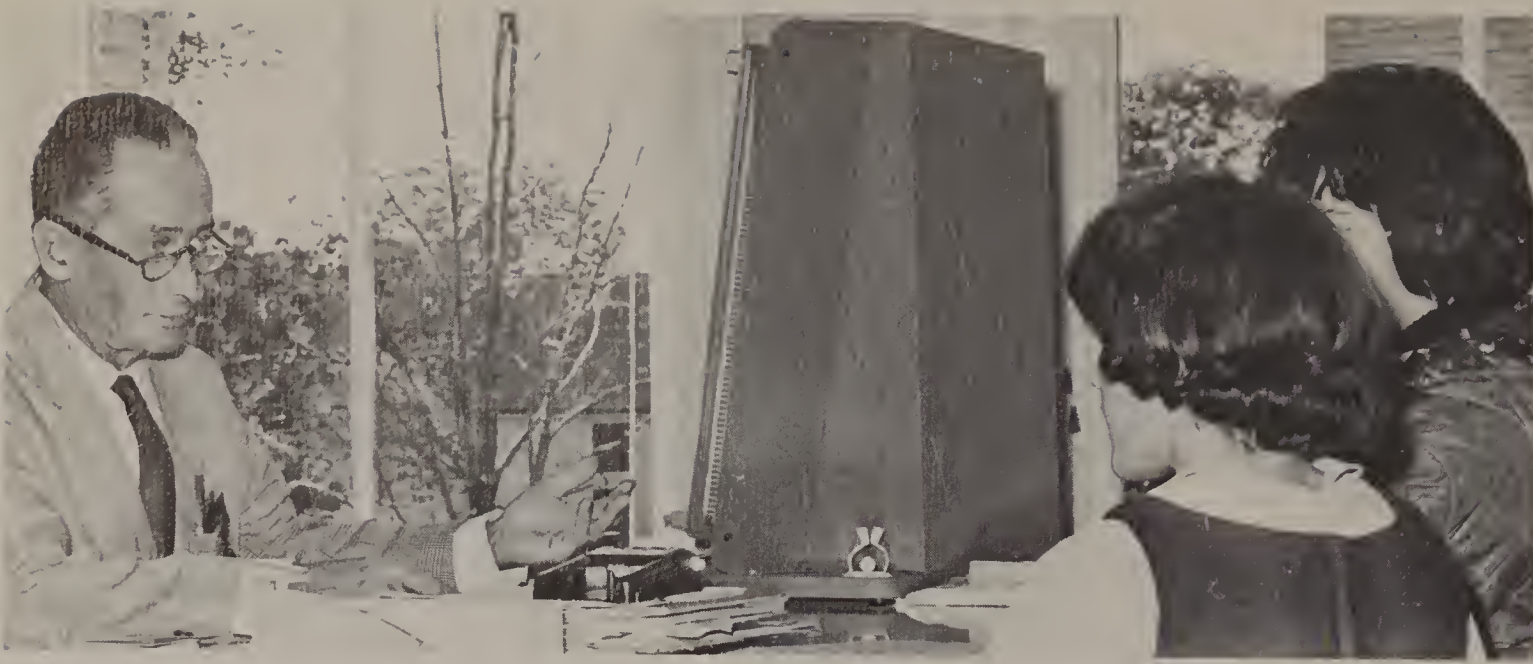

Mr. Gilgun, Mr. Blake, and Mr. Brennan hold an informal conference.

Mr. Henry D. Blake, principal of Woburn High School since 1951, attended Yale University where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree. He obtained his master's degree at Boston College, his C.A.G.S. at Boston University. Mr. Blake has also attended the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Although he has many responsibilities as principal of a school in which we take great pride, Mr. Blake is also engaged in other activities, being a Trustee of the Choate Memorial Hospital and of the Woburn Public Library; he is also Secretary-Treasurer of the Middlesex Principals Association, and an Incorporator of the Woburn Five Cent Savings Bank.

Our two assistant principals, Mr. James F. Brennan and Mr. Laurence P. Gilgun, have proven themselves indefatigable in accomplishing the many tasks involved in running our new and greatly enlarged school.

OFFICE STAFF

Mr. Mahoney gives some important information.

Mr. John P. Mahoney, secretary to the principal is the one person whose function is that of co-ordinator of all business which goes through the well-organized administrative office of Woburn High. His constant efforts on behalf of all school personnel and students are well known by all who have had business in his office. Mr. Mahoney and Mrs. Elizabeth Doherty, his very courteous and helpful associate, are people that have never been too busy to oblige us.

Our busy secretary, Mrs. Doherty.

DEAN OF GIRLS

Miss Helen A. Salmon has many and varied responsibilities. She advises the girls in matters of dress and conduct; and, as dean of girls, attends all the social functions of the school.

For five years Miss Salmon has been an advisor to the National Honor Society and serves on the Scholarship Rating Board as well. Selections of the representatives to the Women's Club are also determined by Miss Salmon.

GUIDANCE ASSISTS EVERY STUDENT

Each year the Guidance Office is able to meet the needs of Woburn High as our student population grows. This year more conferences have been held with individual students and more transcripts to different colleges have been sent out than ever in the past.

This, however, is but a small part of the many duties of a Guidance Office and its staff. Discussions with parents, concerning the educational opportunities for their sons and daughters, are regarded as most essential. Information on many varied vocational schools is also kept constantly available.

No matter what career a student may consider for the future, the Guidance Office is a great assistance in fulfilling these plans. Director of Guidance, Mr. Timothy C. Ring, and his counselors are always in contact with colleges near and far so that they are constantly aware of changing requirements and standards of admission.

SOCIAL STUDIES SOW THE SEED OF WISDOM

Today's world requires a basic knowledge of history. This goal is achieved at Woburn High School because the student begins by studying Ancient History in the ninth grade, then World History, United States History, and, in the senior year, Problems of Democracy. Under the direction of Miss Geraldine A. Soles, the Social Studies Department equips the student with the knowledge of the past that is essential for the future; consequently each student is aware of the value of his role as citizen and future voter.

This year Mr. Paul K. Sweeney, a member of the Social Studies Department, is teaching Advanced Placement American History, which is equivalent to a freshman course in United States History on the college level. As our department enlarges, the students are able to prepare themselves very adequately for their college years.

Since our Music Department is now so spacious, many students are able to participate in its varied activities. For example, with two lovely new musical suites in which to work, the band may rehearse in one, while, at the same time, the Concert Choir and Choraleers rehearse in the other room.

Aside from this, the band and orchestra take part in many parades and music festivals. Each year the band makes many public appearances. In 1964 they participated in parades in Fitchburg and Lexington, and made many local appearances as well.

The lower school and the upper school each have a separate Glee Club; there is also a combined Glee Club, including both lower and upper schools. Doubtlessly, each musically inclined student can gain a greater knowledge of how educational and enjoyable music really can be.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE COURSES GUIDE THE COLLEGE BOUND

Physical Science courses have really been reorganized at Woburn High School, especially during the last few years. Under the competent guidance of Mr. Robert Cohen, the Physical Science department now offers a greater variation in its curriculum.

Entirely new teaching methods are being initiated this year. Science classes no longer consist of just lectures; they are spiced with vivid and interesting demonstrations and lab periods, designed to teach the students by permitting them to participate in the experiments.

More honors courses have been formed for the science subjects now being offered. Chemistry, for example, has an honors class for juniors called Chem Study, and physics also has an advanced program for seniors called P.S.S.C. Physics.

Through these fascinating achievements the students of Woburn High School are really discovering the astonishing world of twentieth-century physical science.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES UNDERGO REVISION

When school opened last September, students pursuing courses in the biological sciences became aware of revisions in this department. In addition to the general biology and traditional biology programs, the department is now offering the B.S.C.S. Biology course, as well as Advanced Placement Biology for second year students.

Such revisions have been developed to aid the prospective student of biology in obtaining more lab experience and a solid background. These new programs, complemented by the addition of new faculty members, will make it possible for the Biology Department to achieve outstanding goals in the not-too-distant future.

Mike Kramer seems to be engrossed in his lab work.

ENGLISH EMPHASIZES WRITING SKILLS

The English Department is constantly striving to help students express themselves clearly and precisely now and in their future endeavors. For business-oriented students, attention is focused on letter writing, reports, and the many essentials so necessary to achieve success in the business world today.

Mr. Paul Murphy, chairman, states that this year the English department is also working to improve the Theme Writing Program so that students will be able to write on a given topic with clearness, depth, and intelligence; therefore, a Theme Corrector Program has been instituted for college preparatory classes in grades nine through twelve.

Practice in the varied types of writing for business and college preparatory groups will be profitable in future years; no matter what field of endeavor the pupil pursues, the basic skill of writing is of the utmost importance.

LIBRARY SUPPLEMENTS CLASSWORK

Our new library at Woburn High School is an impressive example of the quality of achievement that is present in the entire school. It is a pleasure to do work in the sunlit reading room, the well-equipped reference room, and the two private conference rooms. This environment greatly benefits all the students.

Presently, the spacious library is being stocked with new books, magazines, and various types of reference materials. This is all being done under the supervision of Miss Sheeran, our librarian.

Of course, a library's main purpose is to have these types of materials available to all who desire them. Our library program also tries to acquaint the students with the correct use of the library and its facilities. This knowledge will be of great value to everyone in future years of pleasure and education.

ART COURSES PROVE EXCITING AND REWARDING

This year more than two-hundred students have participated in painting and in crafts. Both Mr. Frank Newark and Mr. Robert Charron have succeeded in giving much individual assistance to their art pupils.

At present, two modern rooms are devoted to art studies. First, there is the crafts room, where students may work in clay, plaster sculpture, silversmithing, copper enameling and woodworking.

In the other room, painting and sketching programs are conducted. The students work in oils, water-colors, and tempera; sketching is also available in pen and ink, charcoal and pastels.

Eight of last year's graduates now attend various art schools. One student was fortunate enough to receive a Ford Foundation Scholarship. Let us hope that this year's art students do as well.

FIVE LANGUAGES OFFERED FOR FOUR YEARS

Woburn High School's Foreign Language Department has become involved in one of the many stimulating advances in the language field. This is the audio-lingual approach, which aims at developing the four basic skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

Furthermore, the program for this department has been expanded to include five languages — French, Spanish, Latin, German, and Russian. All of these languages can now be studied for four years. This will enable the student to acquire a reasonable degree of fluency in his chosen language.

In general, the results of the advances and improvements have been most satisfying to parents and teachers. Indeed, an extremely competent staff has been instrumental in effecting a progressive foreign language program.

PROGRESS IN THE FIELD OF BUSINESS

Under the direction of Miss Doris T. Lynch, the Business Education Department has certainly expanded during the past few years. This department, which is located on the second floor of the Sophomore House, offers many courses that are essential to business trainees, such as economics, stenography, typing, and office machines.

Miss Lynch, after investigating the electronic data processing programs currently being used in business, has inaugurated a simulated key-punch course as part of the Office Machines program. Actually, within the past few years, she has successfully revamped the curriculum to include majors in three different areas of office work: bookkeeping, general office work, and stenography. The Business Education Department also offers an elective in personal typing for the interested student.

After graduation from Woburn High School, the Business Education students are well-equipped to cope with and to succeed in the world of business.

STUDENTS CAN ACHIEVE EXCELLENT MATH BACKGROUND

Under the leadership of a very capable new chairman, Miss Virginia M. Hall, the Mathematics Department is rapidly continuing to achieve its goal — the meeting of the common and specialized needs of the students on both the college preparatory and the general levels. Through the correlation of all phases of mathematics, the students are provided with the most comprehensive background possible.

The current stress on the understanding of basic mathematics is aimed at equipping students with the knowledge necessary to succeed in our scientifically minded world. An Advance Placement Course, scheduled for the foreseeable future, will be another tool with which to acquire this knowledge.

Woburn High School's students are certain to find some of the pathways of life easier to travel because they have achieved the necessary math skills.

HOME ECONOMICS COURSES ARE IN DEMAND

Today the Home Economics courses at Woburn High School include much more than the usual clothes construction and cooking lessons. The various subjects covered are personality development, family life, and child care. Class discussion periods help students achieve an understanding of their present and future positions in life.

A period of renovation has taken place; consequently, the department area has more than doubled in size. New kitchen units and a living area have been added; also, the spacious sewing rooms accommodate many more students.

This course has greatly increased in popularity, as evidenced by the large number of girls taking part in it. Training of this type will always be of great use to every girl regardless of her future occupation.

TECHNICAL DRAWING IMPORTANT TO FUTURE DRAFTSMEN AND ENGINEERS

Many students are interested in engineering as a career. For this reason the Technical Drawing Department offers three interesting courses.

Technical Drawing I explains the basic principles and fundamentals used in engineering. Technical Drawing II undertakes actual plan drawing. The third course, Pre-Engineering Drawing, furnishes the student with additional knowledge in both of these areas.

We all are certain that sometime in the future our graduates will be complimented for the skills they originally developed when taking these courses at Woburn High. Opportunity does lie ahead for the hardworking student.

OPPORTUNITIES OFFERED BY INDUSTRIAL ARTS

One of the students takes a proof.

Industrial Arts is interpreted at Woburn High as the acquisition of skills enabling a student to establish an education that may be used in the future. This department consists of four main sections: woodworking, power mechanics, graphic arts, and technical drawing.

Woodworking gives the student a basic knowledge of the procedures involved in furniture making, basic wood structures, and wood fastening. By learning about power mechanics, a student gains proficiency in electronics and auto mechanics.

A glimpse into graphic arts reveals units dealing with the designing of labels, record albums, and greeting cards. Technical drawing or drafting — a means of communication through lines — allows a person to attain engineering status.

Being provided with the latest equipment — a multigraph offset, a blueprint and developing machine, a gas furnace, and drafting machines — students have educational opportunities which are more than sufficient to bring them success in any of these fields.

GYM OFFERS SPORTS FOR EVERY TASTE

There have been many innovations in the Physical Education Department. New apparatus such as the trampoline, chinning bar, and ladder have been installed to provide more diversified physical education for girls. For the boys, there is weight lifting and wrestling. Several new activities such as tennis, field hockey, softball, basketball, and football are now part of the intramural program.

A progressive Fitness Testing Program has also been introduced. Part of this plan involves recording the physical fitness record of each student from grade seven to grade twelve in order to indicate his or her improvement.

Finally, because of all these activities and the excellent equipment, many have shown an increased interest in physical education. This can be evidenced by the greater number of students participating in activities both during and after school.

Dedication

We, the Class of 1965, acknowledge the determined — the devoted efforts, and the superb example of an outstanding member of the Woburn High School faculty. He is an individual whom we consider as an inspiration and guide in taking our first step of the long journey now awaiting us.

Beyond doubt this individual is one of the most generous, considerate teachers we have ever known. Furthermore, he has presented himself exactly as he is: fair, jovial, and tolerant. His subject has never proved dull; there is always that stimulating atmosphere of friendliness and understanding in his classroom. Actually, by teaching us of the past, he has succeeded in showing us the way to our future.

Our small token can never fully express our deep feeling toward this dedicated teacher and driver education instructor; but we do hope our tribute will express "somehow, in some way" our gratitude to you, MR. WILLIAM A. ROCHE.

CLASS DAY LEAVES MANY HAPPY MEMORIES

On June 6, 1964, Class Day Exercises were conducted for the Class of 1964. This day, filled with sunlight and reminiscences for all the departing seniors, will always remain an important memory of their high school experience.

Junior girls, dressed in lovely hued gowns, wound their way around the new gym, forming an archway with flowered wands under which the solemn seniors passed. Echoes of laughter could be heard as they listened intently to their futures foretold by the class prophets. Eyes glistened while the class poem was recited. Their class historian recalled forgotten memories of the past years. Finally, their hope-filled voices rang in unison the words of an always-to-be-treasured class song.

Black caps and gowns made a striking contrast with the medley of colored gowns worn by the junior girls. These seniors were together as a class for one of the last times. The wonderful carefree days of high school were ending to make way for a new beginning.

"EVENING IN PARADISE"

The Class of 1965 was the first to hold a dance in our new cafeteria. On May 8, 1964, our Junior Prom "Evening in Paradise" was conducted, after much preparation by the class officers and the prom committee. This dance was the first "black-tie" affair of our school career, and it certainly proved to be an evening we shall never forget.

Being the class that had the privilege of christening our cafeteria, we also were to encounter many problems concerning the decorations. Nevertheless, after many frustrating, but fun-filled moments, the palm trees sprung and the coconuts appeared.

The Grand March was very impressive, with girls dressed in lovely flowing gowns and boys attired in white dinner jackets. The radiant smiles of so many happy couples were evidence that everyone had a memorable evening.

The rapid tabulation of ballots made it possible to announce the election winners at the close of school.

A fast-paced week of campaigning at Woburn High came to a thrilling climax on October 22, 1964, Class Election Day. Great enthusiasm was displayed by both candidates and voters. The drive and the spirit of our elections was reflected in the poster-filled corridors.

During this hectic week, candidates were given a chance to speak at assemblies before members of their respective classes. Each presented his qualifications and his views on the responsibilities of students toward their school. These stimulating speeches brought the excitement of campaigning to a fever pitch. The speakers were quite impressive, exhibiting truly democratic spirit.

On election day all registered voters cast their ballots in city ballot boxes, borrowed by the school for this occasion. After the rapid tabulation of votes, the new officers were announced over the public address system. This year, however, one factor made these annual elections different. The presidents of both the senior and junior classes were unopposed in their successful campaigns for re-election. How unpredictable politics can be!

SANTA'S WORKSHOP PORTRAYED BY SENIORS

When it struck eight o'clock on Friday evening, December 11, 1964, our Christmas Dance began. Was it a dance, or a trip to Santa's Workshop? This was the obvious question because the upper school cafeteria reflected the senior class' "Portrait of Christmas."

Christmas for the seniors was a gay time, a toy time, a dream-come-true time. Mammoth candy canes and wreaths festooned the walls.

Outside, in the courtyard, a fifteen-foot Christmas tree stood beside Santa's sleigh. As a special favor to the class, Santa himself arrived at ten o'clock to distribute gifts to our hosts and hostesses.

At eleven o'clock — how time flies — the seniors left Santa's Workshop, and their first social of the year became a delightful memory.

THE SEVENTH KEY FINALLY ARRIVED

"Seven Keys to Baldpate" almost resulted in being more of a mystery to the cast than to the audience. Mr. Kimball still doesn't believe that everyone knew his lines the night of the performance, and the cast will never know how he survived those agonizing rehearsals.

Casting was really the "key" to the success of the play, with the class president posing as a crooked politician, a classflirt acting the part of a woman-hater, and the athletes acting as police officers. An alert audience was needed to appreciate the humor in the many lines with subtle meanings. Even our fair coeds displayed their screaming talents; their shrills sent chills through the audience.

Since the play was held in the new auditorium, two nights were allotted for the performances. Everything went well Friday night, January 15, 1965, but a snowstorm postponed Saturday's performance until the next Monday evening.

So, until next year, Mr. Kimball can relax and recuperate from the rigors and trials of directing "a really great show."

CRYSTAL MOMENTS

The social highlight of the Sophomore Class — its Annual Dance — took place on February 12, 1965. After weeks of preparation by the class officers and the dance committee, "Crystal Moments" became a reality. Turquoise, white, and silver decorations in the auditorium combined with the colorful dancers to create a picture of gay festivity.

Invited guests and school officials enjoyed their evening of watching, as well as participating in, the dancing. This was the first major social event of the year for the sophomores, and their future as a successful class looks bright.

DRAMATICS APPEAR AT W.H.S.

On Friday evening, January 22, 1965, the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes sponsored, for the first time, three one act plays. Weeks of long, tedious rehearsals culminated in the successful presentation of "The Bad Children," "Sunday Costs Five Pesos," and "They Made Her Wild." These one act plays promoted stronger interclass ties and healthy class competition in a dynamically expanding school population.

Realistic scenery, provided by the Art Guild members, helped give the upper school auditorium the atmosphere of Broadway. Judges from surrounding high schools chose George Pesaturo as the best actor, and Denise Carpenter was selected as the best actress. The freshman class won the best play award for their presentation of "Sunday Costs Five Pesos." The one act play competition is to be a yearly event at Woburn High School, an event that will certainly arouse the spirit and the interest of all classes.

STUDENT COUNCIL WORKS HARD, WINS PRAISE

Being one of the most successful school organizations, the Student Council promotes a strong unity and friendliness among the students of Woburn High School.

One of the council's main functions this year was sponsoring the class elections. Nominations, speeches, and, finally, the polling of votes made our school elections similar to those in which we shall, in a few short years, participate.

During the football season the Student Council presented its annual "Booster Dance" to stimulate school spirit for our annual Thanksgiving Day game. Another annual event during the fall season was the tea given for the new members of the faculty.

Once again the council, as a core of all our school activities, has reached its goal this year — increased spirit and co-operation on the part of the student body.

WHAT'S NEW WITH THE SENTORIAN?

New, indeed, is the Editorial Cartoon that has added a touch of humor to our school newspaper. Also, the sports editor has produced a more complete coverage of all the sports in season, and a new ad layout is now included in the paper. Along with these improvements, there has been a special correspondence with the Boston Traveler Teen World column; This new feature attracts the interest of many students.

The literary staff of the SENTORIAN meets as often as possible in Room 1214; at this time the editor and assistant editors discuss the layout of the newspaper and give out assignments to different members.

Because of the organized effort of the staff members and the careful direction of the faculty advisors, Mr. Murphy and Miss Lynch, we have been able to produce a more interesting newspaper for all the students to enjoy reading.

HARD WORK EARNS HONORS

At Woburn High School the student body is very proud of its National Honor Society. Scholarship, service, leadership, and character are the four requirements one must meet in order to be selected as a member.

Miss Mary Donovan and Mr. John O'Connor have assumed direction of the National Honor Society this year. In February four more seniors — Nancy Dufour, Lois Fava, Robert Palumbo, and Michael Scelzo — were inducted into this traditional organization.

ROTARY AND WOMEN'S CLUB HONOR SENIORS THAT EXCEL

Two senior boys represent our school at the weekly luncheons of the Woburn Rotary Club. Selections are made on the basis of academic achievement and extra-curricular activity. These Junior Rotarians have, undoubtedly, an excellent opportunity to meet men of prominence in the business world of Woburn and to recognize the importance of civic-minded activities.

Every year six deserving senior girls that excel in scholarship and ladylike characteristics are chosen to represent Woburn High School at the Women's Club. These girls attend both the regular and the special luncheon meetings of the club.

In January the members of the Woburn Women's Club visited the high school, and these senior girls served as hostesses. An informative talk, concerning the facilities of the new addition to our school, was given by Mr. Blake; then a delightful luncheon was served in the new cafeteria.

INNITOU SKETCHES ITS ROAD TO SUCCESS

Art Editor Mallory Grant and Co-editors Thomas Macdonald and Anne Logue discuss a layout of the book.

The yearbook, featuring the many facilities now available in our new high school, presents a realistic picture. Influenced by the increased enrollment, the INNITOU is continuing to use the enlarged 9 x 12 book.

Another highlighted portion of the book this year is the art work of the talented art editor, Mallory Grant, whose sketches have added much to the success of the INNITOU. This year's staff and the advisors have attempted to make the 1965 INNITOU a truly memorable accomplishment.

This yearbook is, in fact, a summation of four years' work and accomplishments for 419 seniors, many faculty members, and underclassmen too. In the years to come, this book will be a stairway to the past.

Listening to guest speakers from the German Consulate, seeing interesting movies, and listening to famous operas were only part of the busy schedule of the German Club this year. Trips were also taken; for example, the members of this club enjoyed the "Tivoli" evening at Boston University, and, later in the year, one of the most interesting events was dining in a German restaurant.

FUTURE NURSES LEARN AND WORK

Students, if you are considering nursing as a future career, do not overlook any meetings held in Room 3209 on the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month. At these meetings the world of nursing is presented before you.

Under the competent guidance of Miss Catherine A. Herlihy, the Future Nurses Club is host to many stimulating speakers, experienced in nursing or in its related fields. Representatives from various schools of nursing, former club members who are presently student nurses, registered nurses from branches of the armed services, and lab technicians from the Chote Hospital have been presented this year. Indeed, the calendar of this club has been very exciting and varied.

In addition, the club members not only receive valuable information concerning "open houses" at local hospitals, but they also have a good time making Christmas surprises for patients at surrounding hospitals. The girls, consequently, enjoy themselves while learning about their prospective careers in nursing.

Learning to help people plays an integral part in our daily lives. At Woburn High School girls can gain such experience by joining the Junior Red Cross.

With the able cooperation of the nurses at the Choate Hospital, the girls have tried to learn and practice the essentials of first aid. Various speakers have come to discuss the benefits of such knowledge and to tell, at times, of their past experiences in saving lives.

During the Christmas season the girls put their artistic talents to work by making dolls for the children at the local hospital. Thus, under the guidance of Miss Myrna Masse and Mr. Charles Sheridan, these members have demonstrated a sincere interest in the well-being of the community.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB OFFERS VALUABLE TRAINING

The Future Teachers Club acquaints members with the field of education by means of speakers and films. Each senior member is given the opportunity to observe in the elementary schools of the city every Wednesday afternoon. Miss Helen Sheeran, advisor of the club, makes the arrangements for these programs and activities.

There has been a very large number of new members this year; therefore, the club has been divided into two groups — senior and junior. The senior group is directed by Miss Helen Sheeran and Mrs. Katarina Barach served as advisor to the junior group. For certain programs, such as the Induction Ceremony in December, the two groups meet together.

Each year this association plans a Teacher Recognition Day; the members also have a tea to honor elementary teachers taking part in the club's program. The experiences and opportunities offered by this club are most helpful to all who plan on teaching as a career.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB OFFICERS: SEATED: JoAnn Larkin, Secretary; Agnes O'Connor, Vice President; Miss Helen Sheeran, Advisor; Lynda Turner, President; Paula Castine, Treasurer. STANDING: Virginia Kenney, Secretary; Louise Hensiek, President; Meg Higgins, Vice President.

INTRODUCING THE DRAMA GUILD

A very new and industrious club is the Drama Guild. This first year of the guild has, indeed, proven very active.

In January the guild produced three one act plays in which the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors competed against each other. Three judges selected Bad Children as the winning play. This modern version of Hansel and Gretel was produced by the freshman class.

The guild, in March, competed against many other schools that participated in the Massachusetts State Wide High School Drama Festival. Each school, represented in the festival, produced its own one act play, and each school was judged on the basis of its own performance.

We are very proud of the new Drama Guild and the fine work that it has accomplished in the past year; we hope it will continue to do so in the years to come.

Mr. LeClair and Miss Murray discuss guild plans with members.

KEY CLUBBERS LEARN BY DOING

Under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis International of Woburn, the Key Club of Woburn High exists to benefit the school and the community; therefore, it can be considered as a service organization.

To serve the school, the Key Club operates a coat check at school functions, and sells programs at the football games. The success of the Father and Son Night and the aid given by members in the distribution of gift baskets of food to the needy at Christmas time are but two examples of the community spirit of this club.

Among the activities of the club this year has been a trip to the Boston Naval Shipyard to tour one of the new submarines. The club had, among others, two excellent speakers: Mr. Frank Scalli, an International Skin Diver, who spoke on S.C.U.B.A. Diving; and Mr. William Roche, a former naval officer in charge of Air Reconnaissance Training, who spoke on Aerial Reconnaissance.

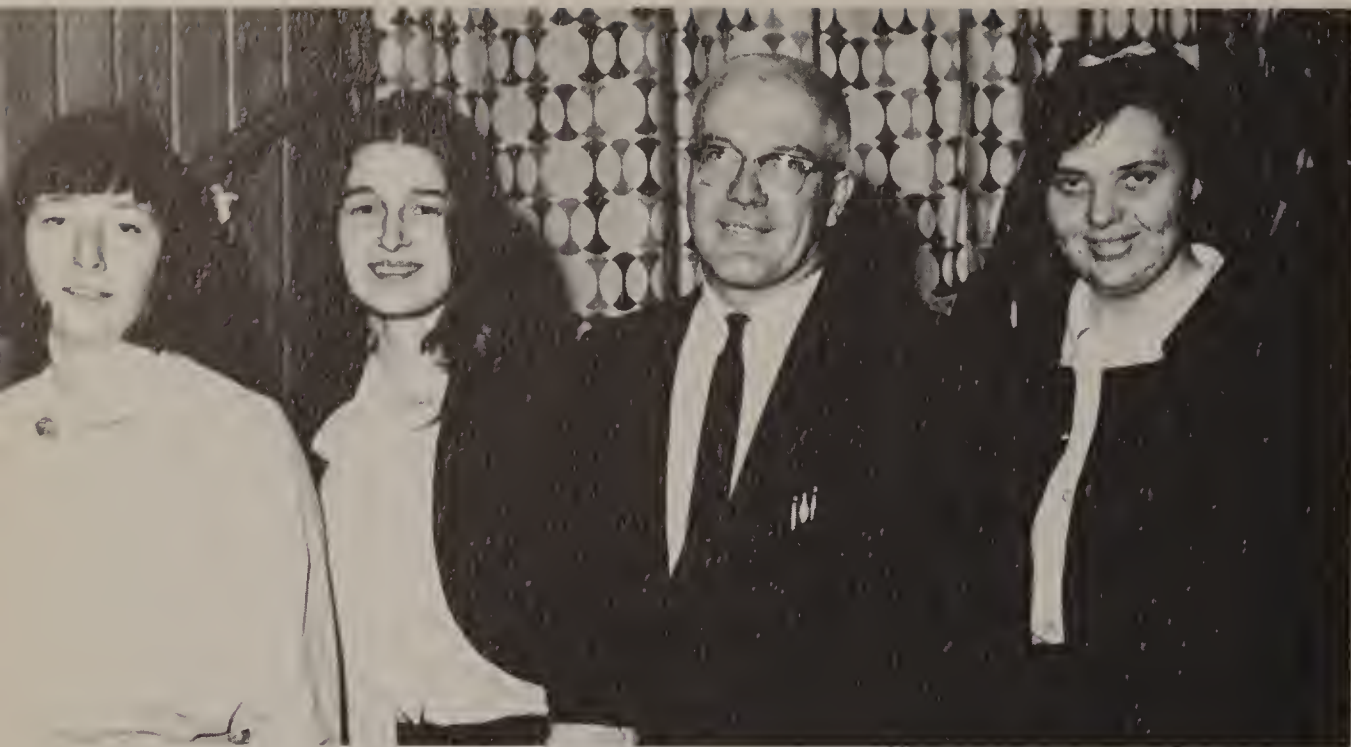

Thus, by hearing such speakers and having such community projects, the members of the club acquire new information on interesting topics and develop a greater sense of responsibility.

Key Clubbers and volunteers helped arrange baskets for Christmas distribution.

The sale of football programs provides the Key Club with a source of income.

CLASSICS CLUB OFFICERS: Linda Johnson, Treasurer; Vivian Staite, Secretary; Mr. Jean P. Houde, Advisor; Judith Dolan, President.

CLASSIC CLUB REVIVES EUROPEAN CULTURE

The Classics Club of Woburn High School had a full program this past year. Trips were taken by members of the club and the advisors to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and to the Greek Theatre at Tufts University.

This club, therefore, is a great aid in familiarizing students with European civilizations. It also gives those interested a better perspective of the influence of an old culture on a present-day culture.

Several interesting guests were invited at various times to speak to members about modern life in Europe.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN JOURNALISM?

Interested in writing and magazine work? Well, several literary-minded students, under the excellent supervision of Mr. Robert J. Gumbleton, prepare the NOMAD, Woburn High's own Saturday Evening Post.

Promising young writers are given an opportunity to display their writing abilities in each NOMAD edition. Their works include a great variety of stimulating short stories and beautiful poems.

This year something new has been organized by the NOMAD — a creative writing group called "Seminar 64", which is designed for students interested in developing skills and techniques in the writing of poetry, short story, and essay. With such literary activities at Woburn High, many students may well be started on promising literary careers.

BUSINESS EDUCATION CLUB OFFICERS: Nancy Dufour, Vice President; Carolyn De-long, President; Miss Doris T. Lynch, Advisor; Diane Brosnan, Treasurer; Deborah Fenton, Secretary.

FUTURE SECRETARIES ACHIEVE EXCELLENCE

Today's competitive business world requires more than just the basic skills of a good secretary. It is equally as important to possess a pleasant personality and appearance. At meetings of the Business Education Club, advice on how to solve situations tactfully, and how to contend with the numerous daily problems of a large office is given by Miss Doris T. Lynch, club advisor.

The members of this club also have the opportunity to listen to invited guests inform them about the varied aspects of office work and advise them concerning the job opportunities available.

When our future secretaries go out into the world of business, they are very well prepared for their careers. Therefore, we are certain that any businessman would be proud to hire a former member of the Business Education Club.

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS PROVE INDISPENSIBLE

Whenever a faculty member needs a report or material for class work, whenever a student's term report is overdue, or whenever a club needs typewritten material, Woburn High's answer to these and many other similar dilemmas is the Junior Assistant's Club.

The membership of this club consists of girls in the business course since only they have the skills necessary for such typing assignments.

Because of the excellent quality of their work, the Junior Assistants are sometimes kept very busy during their study periods and after school as well. While using their talents to help others, these girls are training themselves for their future endeavors.

INSTRUCTION AND ENTERTAINMENT AT EACH HI-TEEN MEETING

A club very popular among the girls at Woburn High is the Hi-Teen Fashion Club. All programs and activities of this organization are planned under the guidance and direction of Miss Barbara A. Dunbury, faculty advisor. The club is open to all senior girls taking home economics courses.

The long list of the club's activities appeals to every high school girl. Each year the Christmas Tea is a social highlight of this organization. Programs relating to grooming, cake-decorating, table-setting, and clothing, as well as floral arrangements, are very entertaining and instructive. At each meeting, helpful knowledge in any field of homemaking and grooming can be gained.

WHAT'S BOYLE'S LAW

If, while passing Room 2214 some day, you should hear Boyle's Law or the Doppler Effect being discussed, you would just be listening to the ideals of future scientists on the laws of science. Once a month students gather to tax their minds on various principles of chemistry, biology, and physics.

The Science Club opens its membership to all students enthralled by the mysteries of our world and the universe. This club tries to help satisfy their inquiring intellects and to disclose the many wonderful opportunities available in science careers.

One result of this club can be found in the enthusiastic response to the Woburn High School Science Fair, wherein interested students may demonstrate their own projects to the public while competing for coveted medals and certificates.

STUDENTS LEARN MEDICINE IS FASCINATING

Have you ever wondered about the careers available in the field of medicine or biology? Have you ever desired to work with the sick or to investigate the vast mysteries of life? If you have at some time entertained such thoughts, then you might be interested in the Biology and Pre-Med Club.

This club is one of many stepping stones for students desiring careers in the field of medicine and biology. Club members have heard electrifying lectures by doctors and medical students and have visited various surrounding hospitals. All were fascinated.

While learning about their prospective careers, members of this club also realized the tremendous importance of biology and medicine to modern society. Possibly, someday a present member may return to speak at a meeting, instead of merely listening in amazement.

Dr. Hazel addresses the Pre-Med Club.

HAM RADIOS ARE POPULAR

Informal discussion of theory and actual construction of equipment are the major activities of the Radio Club. Under the direction of Mr. James Fisk, the members have taken field trips to various places of interest.

In the not-too-distant future, there are hopes of having a ham radio station operating on the air at Woburn High School.

MATH CLUB INVESTIGATES LOGIC

Under the direction of Miss Virginia Hall, Mrs. Judith Flagg, Miss Helen O'Shea, and Mrs. Samuel Richardson, many varied projects have been undertaken by the Math Club. A series of talks on logic, given by the advisors, predominated many of the meetings; and, naturally, such information proved both profitable and enjoyable to the group. The members themselves also formulated discussions based on a mathematical book set, "Exploring Mathematics on Your Own."

As a culmination of the year's work and fun, the Math Club intends to take a field trip to witness mathematics at work. One of the many engineering or architectural offices in the vicinity is being considered as a possibility. This is something all the members look forward to with excitement.

Member participation marks Math Club meetings.

NOUS AIMONS FRANCAIS!

New activities have been added to the schedule of the French Club this year. Some of the members are subscribing to the "Paris-Match," a French pictorial magazine that gives an excellent presentation of world topics. Other members are corresponding with students of their own age in France. In addition to these activities, there are various members who have also participated in skits and playlets spoken in French and presented for the enjoyment of this club.

In short, the activities of the group have led to a closer understanding of the people and the the culture of a country whose language they have studied.

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS: Ann Harrington, President; Rita Brogna, Secretary; Patricia Higgins, Vice President; Mrs. Doris Coris, Advisor; David Raggucci, Treasurer.

Miss Mary Cooney describes some of her experiences while teaching at an American school in France.

STUDENTS DISCOVER RUSSIA

Have you ever wanted to know what daily life in Russia is like, or eat some Russian food, or learn about Russian culture? Then, by all means, join the Russian Club, sponsored by Miss Sandra Damico, a new member of our faculty.

For the information of its members, the club has presented a series of student reports on different aspects of Russian culture and history. Also, a professor of Russian history at Emmanuel College, Mr. Peter Sueikaukus, addressed the club in December.

For the enjoyment of its members, there was a Christmas party at which Russian Christmas carols were sung and Russian pastries were served. One of the highlights of its varied programs was the trip to the Brattle Street theatre to view a Russian film.

Since Russian is now prominent in today's life, it is imperative that some of our students verse themselves in the customs and daily life of this nation.

LITERARY CLUB FULFILLS MANY INTERESTS

Mr. Doran conducts a Literary Club meeting.

Another interesting club has been formed this year at Woburn High School. It is the Literary Club under the direction of Mr. Robert Doran and Mr. William Hosmer. Its meeting place is Room 3212.

This active young group planned many interesting programs. Among the activities were book discussion groups, play reading and analysis, as well as attendance at plays or movies concerned with literary works that have been discussed.

Club members have been kept busy supervising a paperback lending library which they have established for all interested students. Members also have projects such as writing for the SENTORIAN. This club certainly fulfills the interest of all its members.

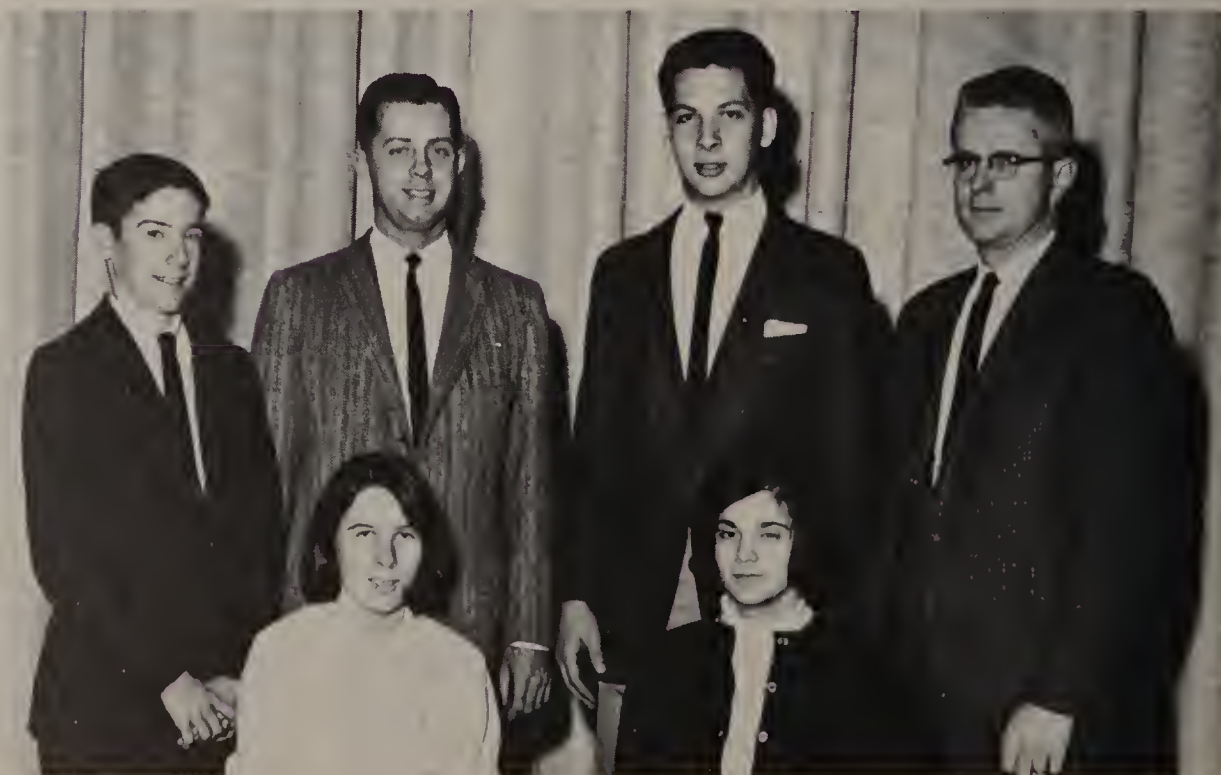

WORLD AFFAIRS DESERVE OUR ATTENTION

We are the citizens and statesmen of tomorrow. For this purpose of preparing and practicing for this future, the International Relations Club was organized.

At meetings of the International Relations Club, discussion of world affairs and events currently causing world dissensions are presented and analyzed. Topics, ranging from Red China to the theory of states rights, keep the club members busy preparing arguments pro and con.

Although preparation for a meeting may prove to be a demanding task of research, satisfaction is gained, nevertheless, during the heated arguments that arise. During these meetings club members must have not only opinions but also facts.

The International Relations Club is helping the leaders of tomorrow think. Problems of an international nature cannot be solved by people with opinions only.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB OFFICERS: SEATED: Beth Mahoney, Treasurer; Paulette Addario, Secretary. STANDING: William Sullivan, Vice President; Mr. Charles McCarthy, Advisor; Daniel Helgersen, President; Mr. Paul K. Sweeney, Advisor.

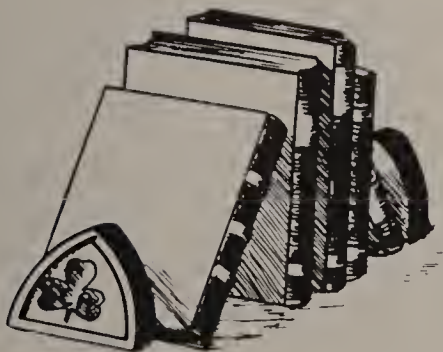

BRIDGE CLUB OFFICERS: Barbara O'Neill, Secretary-Treasurer; Marie LaCroix, Vice President; Mr. Matthew McNamara, Advisor; John Desmond, President.

GRAND SLAMS ARE PLAYED

Under the direction of Mr. Matthew McNamara, the Bridge Club has proved to be both worthwhile and enjoyable. This year, because of the difficulty of playing bridge in a classroom, the meetings were moved to the lower school cafeteria.

Besides playing bridge, the club has had guest speakers and taken field trips to Boston. Tournaments with other schools are a hope for the future.

READING CLUB PERFECTS BASIC SKILLS

The members of the Reading Club, under the direction of Miss Marie Butler, strive to increase their skills in speed reading and comprehension by making use of the many facilities available in the reading laboratories. Other favorite activities of the members include the viewing of films designed to increase their agility in reading and the discussion of books recently read.

In addition to these rewarding meetings, the members also visit with the school librarian, hoping to increase their knowledge of library science. This relatively new club has proven to be both interesting and rewarding to its members.

READING CLUB OFFICERS: Cheryl Smith, Secretary; James Coakley, President; Miss Marie Butler, Advisor; Deborah Murdza.

YOUNG ARTISTS ACHIEVE ADVANCEMENT

Students planning to further their education in the field of art are given special attention in the Fine Arts Club. Mr. Robert Charron and Mr. Frank Newark spend many long hours after class helping students prepare for the difficult entrance exams of the major art schools.

Portfolios containing their various paintings, sketchings, and drawings are carefully arranged to present to admissions offices. Lively discussions concerning the advantages and disadvantages of these schools frequently occur. Trips to those schools in this area are taken to acquaint these prospective students with the benefits to be derived from their future education.

As the members well know, this club devotes time to advanced work. Therefore, these young artists achieve a broader perspective and a finer technique in the most rewarding field of art.

FINE ARTS CLUB: Mallory Grant, Ida Binks, Robert Gibson, Beverly Pepe, Charles Gould, Richard Hall.

ART GUILD MEMBERS DISPLAY MANY TALENTS

Anyone interested in art will welcome the opportunity of joining the Art Guild. Here students are able to enjoy the many aspects of this field by putting their talents to work. There is always a busy group planning a variety of projects under the able direction of Mr. Robert Charron and Mr. Frank Newark.

Successful new ideas are always cropping up. For instance, during the Christmas season they put their ability to work by making lovely corsages for the faculty, and their colorful window paintings added a festive air to our corridors. Also, the fine scenery for the one-act plays, presented in January, was a perfect example of their creative talent.

Indeed, this club profits many students. Field trips to museums and galleries in the Boston area are occasionally taken. Such visits are helpful as they acquaint the student with the different artists and their works. All in all, this is the perfect club for the student having an interest in art.

PEP CLUB OFFICERS: Barbara Boardway, Treasurer; Maureen Gallagher, Vice President; Mr. James Foye, Advisor; Maria DeLeo, President; Joyce McAllister, Secretary.

WE SUPPORT THE TEAM

Supporting the cheerleaders at the football games is the Pep Club. Lending moral and vocal support to the cheerleaders, the club assists in giving the players the necessary spirit to fight for victory.

This year the Pep Club took part in the Homecoming Parade; one hundred and thirty-five girls participated in this event. Mr. James Foye has also planned other activities, such as cheering at basketball games, in which school spirit and participation are emphasized.

Our Pep Club leads its vocal support to the football team.

G.A.A.: SEATED: Kathleen Varey, Charlene Metrano, Miss Marie Seminatore, Eleanor Perry, Patricia Gonsalves. STANDING: Kathleen Logue, Kathleen Langley, Janice Franson, Beth McDonough.

G.A.A. PARTICIPATES IN INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Under the direction of Miss Marie Seminatore and Miss Geraldine Wegener, the Girls Athletic Association began a new program of intramural sports last fall, which included basketball, field hockey, gymnastics, and, most popular of all, flag football.

The Girls' Athletic Association consists of girls who participate in athletics at Woburn High School and who wish to support this worthy organization.

COLOR GUARD: Carol Stokes, Donna Balboni, Diane Brosnan, Sandra Johnson, Paulette Addario, Nancy Brosnan, Beverly Nett.

WE CHEER OUR CHEERLEADERS

Perhaps our outstanding cheerleaders are the greatest contributing cause of Woburn High's tremendous school spirit. Tirelessly, they cheer our boys through glorious victories and bitter defeats.

Through vigorous and steady practice sessions they master cheer after cheer to rally support behind our school teams, and, needless to say, their efforts are appreciated by all of us.

CHEERLEADERS: KNEELING: Leslie Franson, Barbara Stima, Patricia Verrecchia. STANDING: Katherine Forester, Kathleen Hubbard, Margaret Maher, Marcia McGilvray, Shirley Huckins, Barbara McCarthy, Bernadette Reis, Donna Manley.

OUR MARCHING BAND ACHIEVES EXCELLENCE

The Woburn High School band, accompanied by the Drum Majorettes, Bannerbearers, and Color Guard, added its sparkle and music to a number of activities this year. Under the direction of Mr. Edson L. Kimball, the W. H. S. Band could be seen leading many parades. For example, during half time at the football games, the precision marching of the majorettes and the band could be seen. Woburn also participated in the five annual community parades.

During the year other special events occurred. In January band members were invited to perform at the Inauguration Ceremonies at the State House. Then, too, there was the Bi-Centennial Parade at Fitchburg; and, in the spring, the band played a combined concert with Andover and Burlington High Schools.

Therefore, as you can well imagine, any afternoon music can be heard coming from the music suite, showing that practice has rewarded the band.

PERCUSSION SECTION: FIRST ROW: James Danehy, Lawrence Bisso, Richard Kramer, Ernest Gonsalves, Timothy Otis. SECOND ROW: Patrick Norton, Carol Morrow, Rita Brogna, Carol Faro, Frederick Leland.

W.H.S. ORCHESTRA ADDS ZEST TO MANY ACTIVITIES

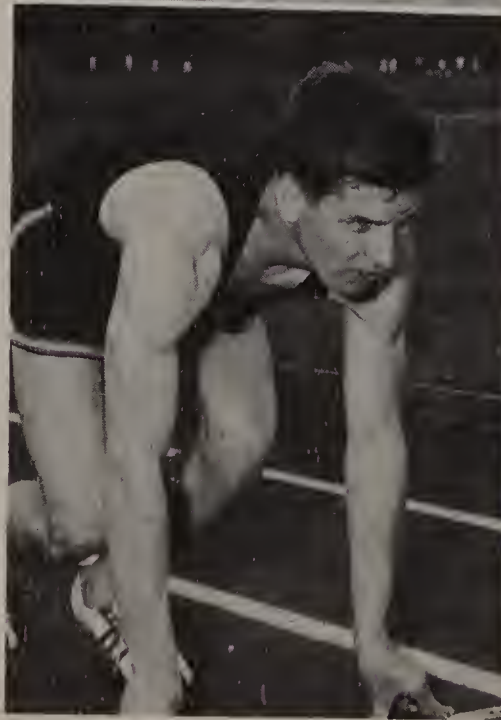

The Woburn High School orchestra has been very active this year, for it has acquired many new musicians and interesting new music as well. Mr. Edson L. Kimball works tirelessly with all the members to perfect their skills.

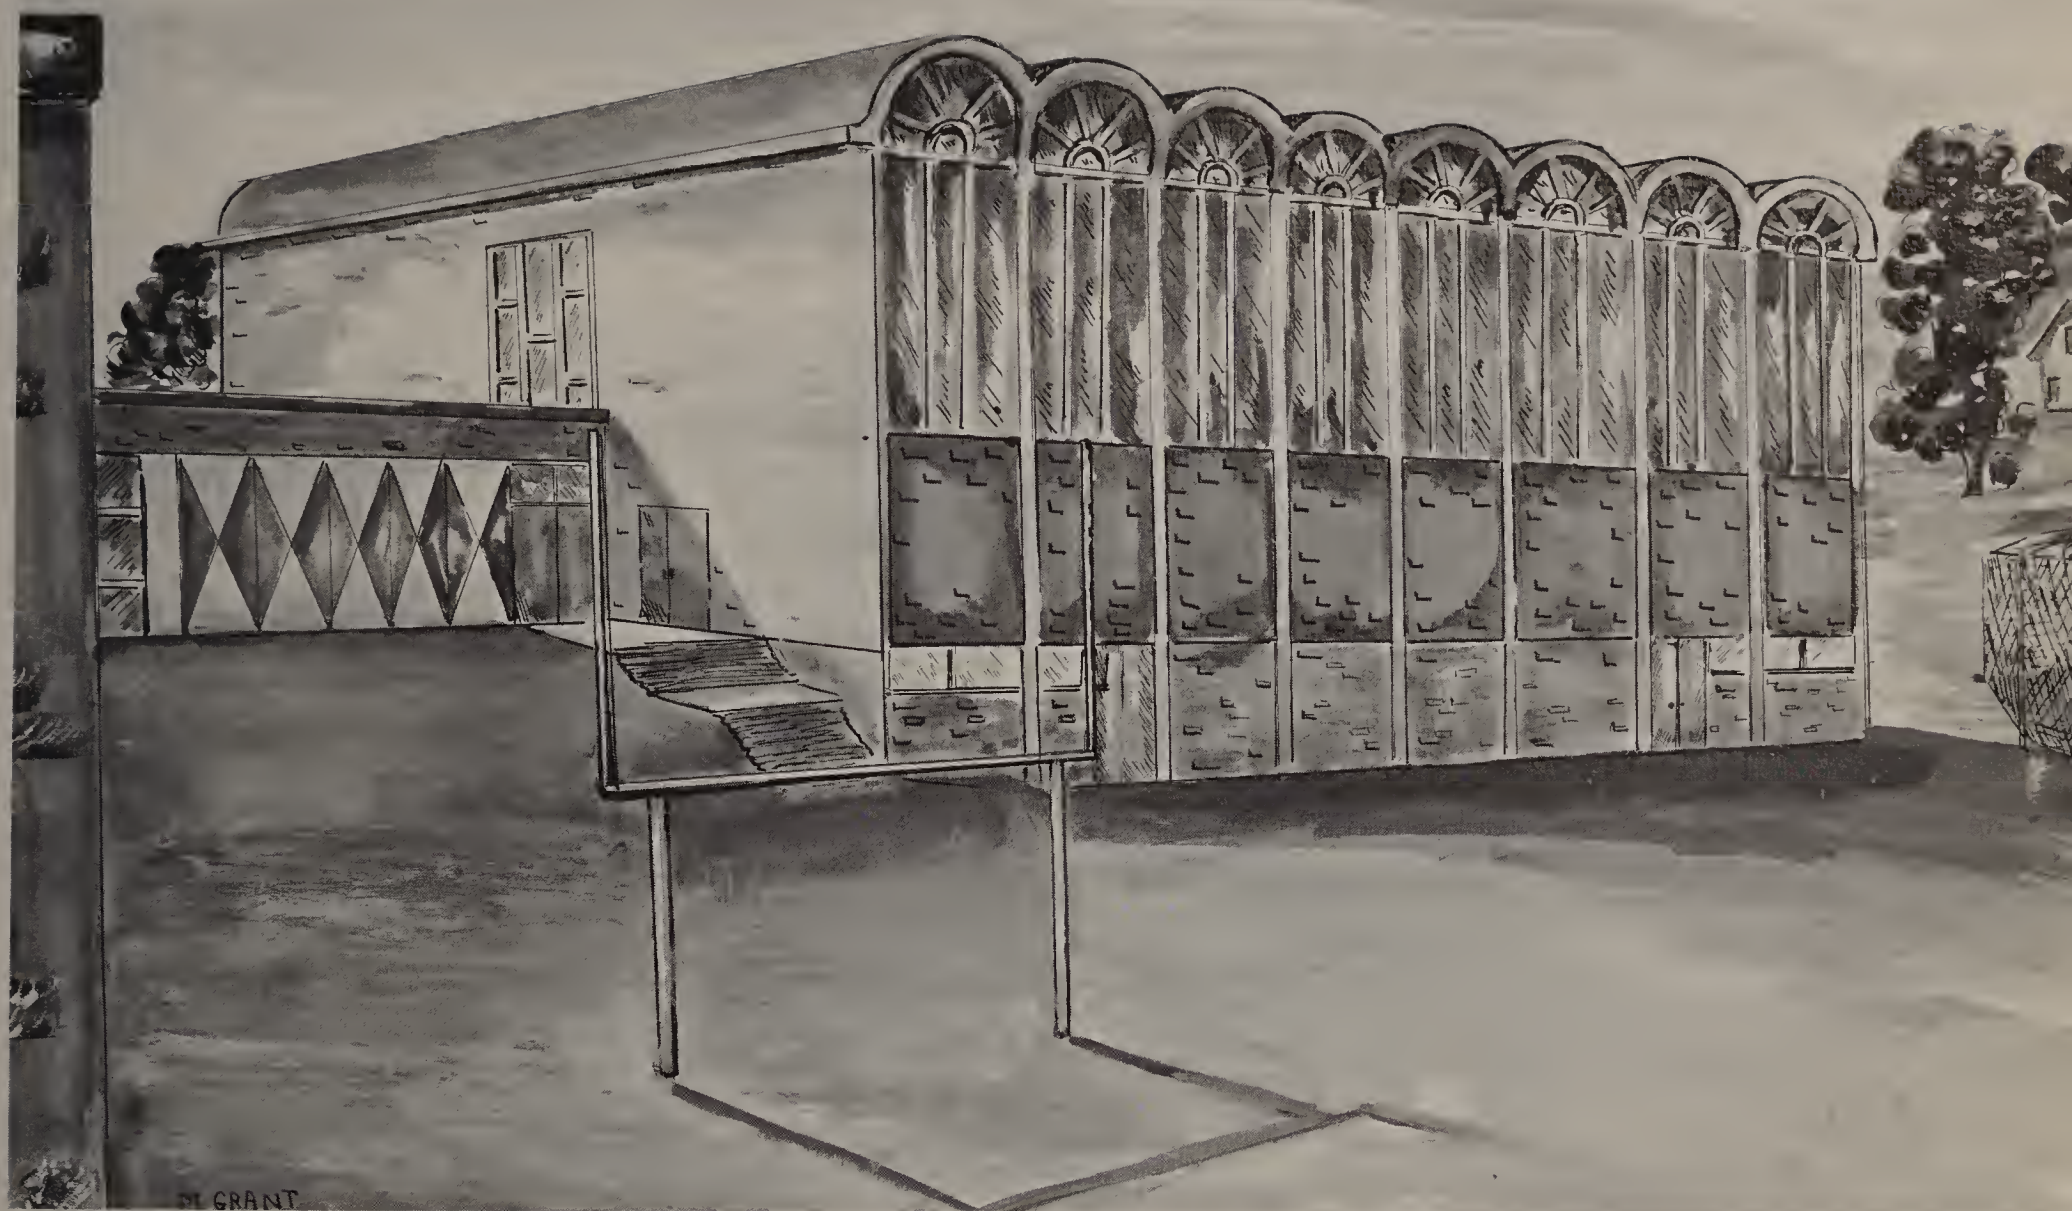

We, at Woburn High, are very proud of their accomplishments. Our orchestra added a festive flavor to many school activities; indeed, our assemblies, Class Day Exercises, and our Annual Senior Play are all highlighted by such skillful musical performances

The orchestra entertains at Christmas.

PIGSKIN PROBLEMS

This year's team was studded with veterans. Injuries to key players at crucial times during the season, however, combined with a few tough breaks, such as having to play a strong Andover team in the mud and losing the ball twice by interceptions in the closing minutes of the Marblehead game, provided for only a mediocre season.

The season started with Woburn rated as an underdog going against Newburyport. In the first half, Woburn looked and played exactly as it was rated. But, in the second half, they exploded and won the game. Next they came face to face with Swampscott, the pre-season pick for champion of the conference. Again they trailed in the first half, but managed to tie the game in the second half. After defeating non-league Saugus, Woburn went into a tailspin, losing three straight and splitting the last two, thus finishing with a three, four, and one record. Such games made for a frustrating but, nevertheless, exciting season.

With so many returning lettermen and with the return of speedstar Bobby Hasselbaum, Coach Walter White hoped to offset the lack of size of his backfield with speed. Yet, early in the season, Hasselbaum injured his back; later in the season, Captain Sal DeTeso sustained a knee injury, leaving a huge gap in the Woburn forward wall. Such returning veterans as Co-captains Jim Cannon and Carl Torrice, Jerry Gorrasi, Bill McClatchey, and Steve Coldwell give us high hopes for next year.

BASKETBALL TEAM BOUNCES BACK TO WIN

Sparked by Steve Connolly, the basketball team finished the season in a tie for second place in the Northeast Conference. With a strong core of returning veterans, including Captain Joe Borselli, Ron Boutwell, Bill Chebba, Bob Nolan, Steve Connolly, and Fred Sankus, Coach Richard Skeffington had high hopes for a good season.

After losing the first two games, it looked as if Woburn would face a rather disappointing season. However, the hoopsters bounced back to win three straight, and they finished with a nine and five league record. Throughout the season it seemed as though Woburn would collapse under the pressure of constantly playing outmanned. By sheer determination they battled back for every victory, losing first place to a strong Andover team.

Hopes look bright next year for another good team. Returning are starting center Fred Sankus, Bill Chebba, Chuck Greene, and Jerry Gorrasi. Some junior varsity standouts slated for promotion are Joe Doto, Dan Foley, Mike Guiliani and Bill O'Keefe. Woburn places its hopes for another winning season on these players.

PUCKSTERS MAKE LEAGUE, STATE PLAYOFFS

For the seventh time in ten years the Woburn High hockey team, having a season record of 11 wins, 4 losses, and 4 ties, qualified for the State Tournament. Although they barely made the North Shore League Playoffs, with a record of 7 wins, 3 losses, and 4 ties, Woburn fought back strongly, beating Malden Catholic and Saugus, but losing to Lynn Classical in the title game.

In the State Tournament, Woburn defeated Boston English, first-place finisher in the Boston City League, only to draw Arlington as their next opponent. Arlington proved to be too strong and eliminated Woburn from the playoffs.

The big difference in this year's team was the solid core of returning veterans. Goalie Wayne Suchecki always played strongly in the nets and Richie Calahan was a consistent lamp-lighter, finishing second in the league scoring race. Other standouts were Russ Nelson and Jim Flynn on defense, and Brad Wright, Bill Perkins, and Tom Lynch at the wings.

SWEENEYMEN HOPE TO BAT 1,000

Building on a strong nucleus of returning varsity men, Coach Paul K. Sweeney, taking over the reins from Bart McDonough, has high hopes for a successful season, as we go to press. Richie Callahan, who hit over .400 last season, and Sal DeTeso, who last year was a front-line pitcher, are returning. Other varsity players, such as Ronnie Boutwell, Tom Lynch, Dick Donahue, and Steve Connolly, will help to provide a winning season.

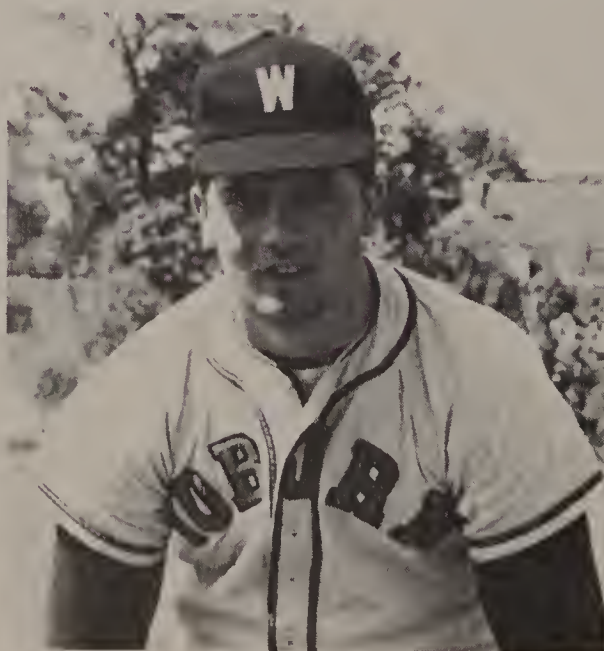

Coach Sweeney has a number of junior varsity players slated for promotion to the varsity; among them are Dan Delorey, Ed Gillis, Jerome Gorrasi, Chuck Greene, Jim Murphy, and Carl Torrice. According to Mr. Sweeney, "Prospects for a winning team look good on paper, but we will play the season game by game, and see what develops." We hope what develops will be Northeast Conference champs.

INDOOR TRACKSTERS FINALLY TRIUMPH

Lead by Captain Bob Hasselbaum, the indoor track team finished the season with a winning three and two record. This was the first winning team since the league was started four years ago. Picking up the necessary depth points, which were lacking in last year's team, Woburn was able to win.

With Bob Hasselbaum in the 50, freshman Joe Kaknes in the 600, Paul Strabile in the 1000, and Bill Tebbetts in the high jump and hurdles, Woburn scored many valuable points. Since this is a basically young team, Coach Austin Garvey has high hopes for next year.

OUTDOOR TRACK FORECAST IS BRIGHT

After completing a winning indoor season against a tough indoor league, the outdoor track team has high hopes for the spring. Actually, this will be the first time for quite a while that we have come to the outdoor season with some wins and much depth.

With a strong contingent of underclassmen and with the return to full capacity of Captain Bob Hasselbaum, Coach Austin Garvey has high hopes for a strong and spirited team.

HARRIERS HAVE A HARRIED SEASON

Having lost seven of the ten varsity runners, our cross country team was not expected to be a major contender. But, to the surprise of Coach Austin Garvey, the harriers did show will against the strong teams in the league. For example, against Swampscott, a very strong team, Woburn came within three points of winning; against Andover, they lost only by seven points.

With a little more depth, Woburn could have had at least a four and four record, instead of a one and seven record. Nevertheless, Coach Garvey has found some promising underclassmen. Paul Starbile, a junior, showed great style and power in his first year of running; others that displayed promise were Jim Danehy, Richard Day, Fred Sankus, and Bob Jones. These runners are expected to strengthen the team and give us a few more victories next year.

Two of the underclassmen cover the cross country course.

Co-captains Charlene Metrano and Patricia Gonsalves plan the game strategy with Miss Wegener.

FIELD HOCKEY PLAYERS DISPLAY EFFORT AND ENTHUSIASM

The field hockey team deserves congratulations for their fine effort, enthusiasm, and sportsmanship. The team this year, under the direction of Miss Geraldine Wegener, consisted principally of inexperienced freshmen. Their record: one win, six losses, and one tie.

In addition to the lack of veteran players, there was another handicap to be overcome. Patricia Klosowski, a high scorer, being injured early in the season, was able to play in only one game. Nevertheless, the efforts and the skill of the co-captains, Patricia Gonsalves and Charlene Metrano, contributed to an exciting season.

The future certainly looks promising. Field hockey will be included as part of our gym program, and the fundamentals will be taught by our coaches. Such a program and such capable leadership should develop the field hockey stars of tomorrow.

TENNIS TEAM HAS HOPES FOR VICTORY

Tennis at Woburn High is becoming an extremely popular sport. At the beginning of each new season, an ever-increasing number of candidates try out for the team. Renewed interest can also be found among the members of the varsity. Because of the large number of freshmen who had reported for practice last year, Miss Geraldine Wegener, our coach, instituted an intramural program. New tennis courts were constructed for use this spring, making a total of six available.

Last season the tennis team had a record of two wins, six losses, and one tie. However, as we go to press, this coming season appears to be bright. Returning this spring are the following veterans: Diane DiPanfilo, Marie Koutoudakis, Carol O'Leary, Barbara O'Neill, Joan Stead, and Wenda Tebbetts. Supported by the addition of new players with great potential, tennis will become a game of victory for Woburn High.

SOFTBALL SEASON LOOKS PROMISING

As we go to press, the outlook for the 1965 softball season appears promising. Returning veterans from last year's successful team, which had a record of six wins and one loss, are Linda Carner, Patricia Gonsalves, Patricia Klosowski, Charlene Metrano, and Eleanor Peary.

The continued success of the softball team is not accidental. It is the direct result of the team's determination to win, together with the ability of the coach, Miss Marie Seminatore, to utilize the team's potential contribution.

THAT'S THE WAY THE BALL BOUNCES

The Tannerettes experienced a disappointing season this year in spite of the determination and the enthusiasm of captain Patricia Gonsalves and team members Kathy Foster, Janice Franson, Patricia Higgins, Patricia Klosowski, Charlene Metrano, Faith Milonas, and Kathleen Varey.

Such losses, however, should come as no surprise to the loyal supporters of the basketball team. It was apparent at the beginning of the season that the Tannerettes were lacking depth, one of the essential ingredients of a winning team. Nevertheless, these players are to be congratulated for their fine effort and sportsmanship.

CLASS MOTTO

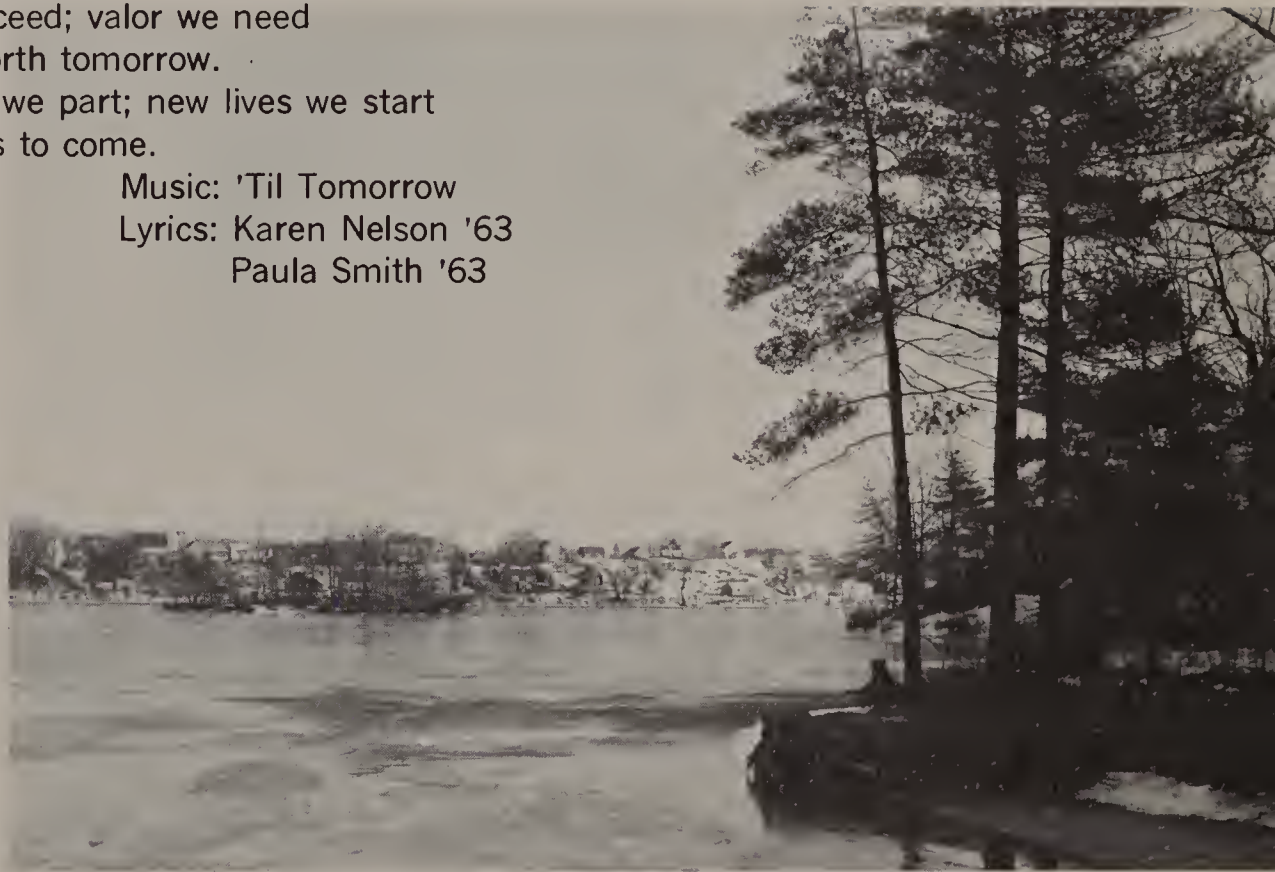

The journey of a thousand miles starts with a single step.

ALMA MATER

Twelve years have passed; they went so fast;
Here's the future, the future.
Now we depart, heavy our heart;
We'll remember, remember.
Memories we've known, shared as our own
While knowledge we were gaining.
Our lives will glide; memories will guide
As the future comes.

To Woburn High, we say good-bye
Now forever, forever.
Older in years, challenged by fears,
Now we leave you; we leave you.
We will succeed; valor we need
As we go forth tomorrow.
Old friends we part; new lives we start
In the years to come.

Music: 'Til Tomorrow
Lyrics: Karen Nelson '63
Paula Smith '63

THE DREAM

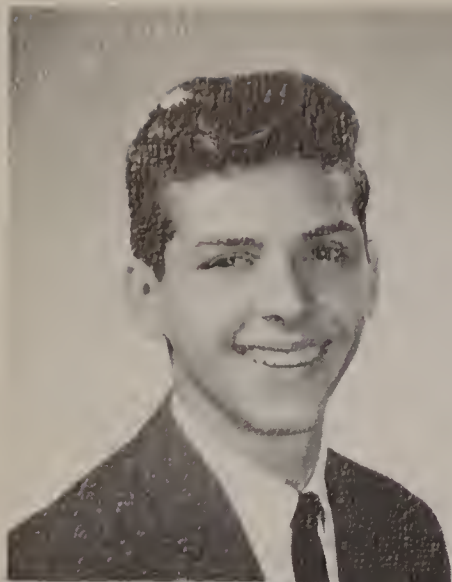

With clipped wings, time flows on languidly;
Yet retrospect calls up the thoughts of gay
And playful laughter, heedless then, carefree:
The bliss which eyes of adults never see.
This then for knowledge is the price they pay.

Forbidden fruit is grasped with eager hand;
The lure of knowledge beckons to all youth.
But is the revelation now so grand?
Those now aware of life, the fates demand
To face responsibility and truth.

Cold nature has no room for fantasy;
The verdant leaves cannot escape the Fall.
With knowledge, one must face reality.
Which future path will find security?
The cold, hard truths of life exist for all.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Throughout this edition of the 1965 INNITOU we have tried to convey the sincere belief that "Education is the Key to Accomplishment." Verses which appear on the "division pages" have been taken from the Book of Ecclesiastes of the King James Bible, and we believe they express our theme both eloquently and appropriately.

Learning is the great beginning of a new and profound experience; knowledge is the advantageous product achieved by study and self-discipline. We, as students, have undergone both the pains of learning and the satisfaction of knowledge. We have, however, achieved our ultimate goal, and in our yearbook we have endeavored to provide an interesting and memorable record of our high school years.

We sincerely hope our efforts have been worthwhile. Yet, without the devoted help of many individuals, this yearbook could never have been produced. Therefore, we the Staff of the 1965 INNITOU wish to thank the following for their individual aid:

First, as pictures are of great importance in this book, we wish to express our gratitude to the Warren Kay Vantine Studio. The skill and imagination of photographers Jack Kelly and Bob O'Hanian have certainly proven a great asset to our yearbook; and the courtesy and assistance of Mrs. Camille Johnson is gratefully acknowledged. Also, a special note of thanks goes to Mr. Russ Stone of Reading, Massachusetts, who took the color aerial shot on page one.

Next, the American Yearbook Company is to receive our appreciation for publishing this volume. In particular, we would like to give a "thank-you" to Mr. Richard Weir, our yearbook consultant, for being so very helpful.

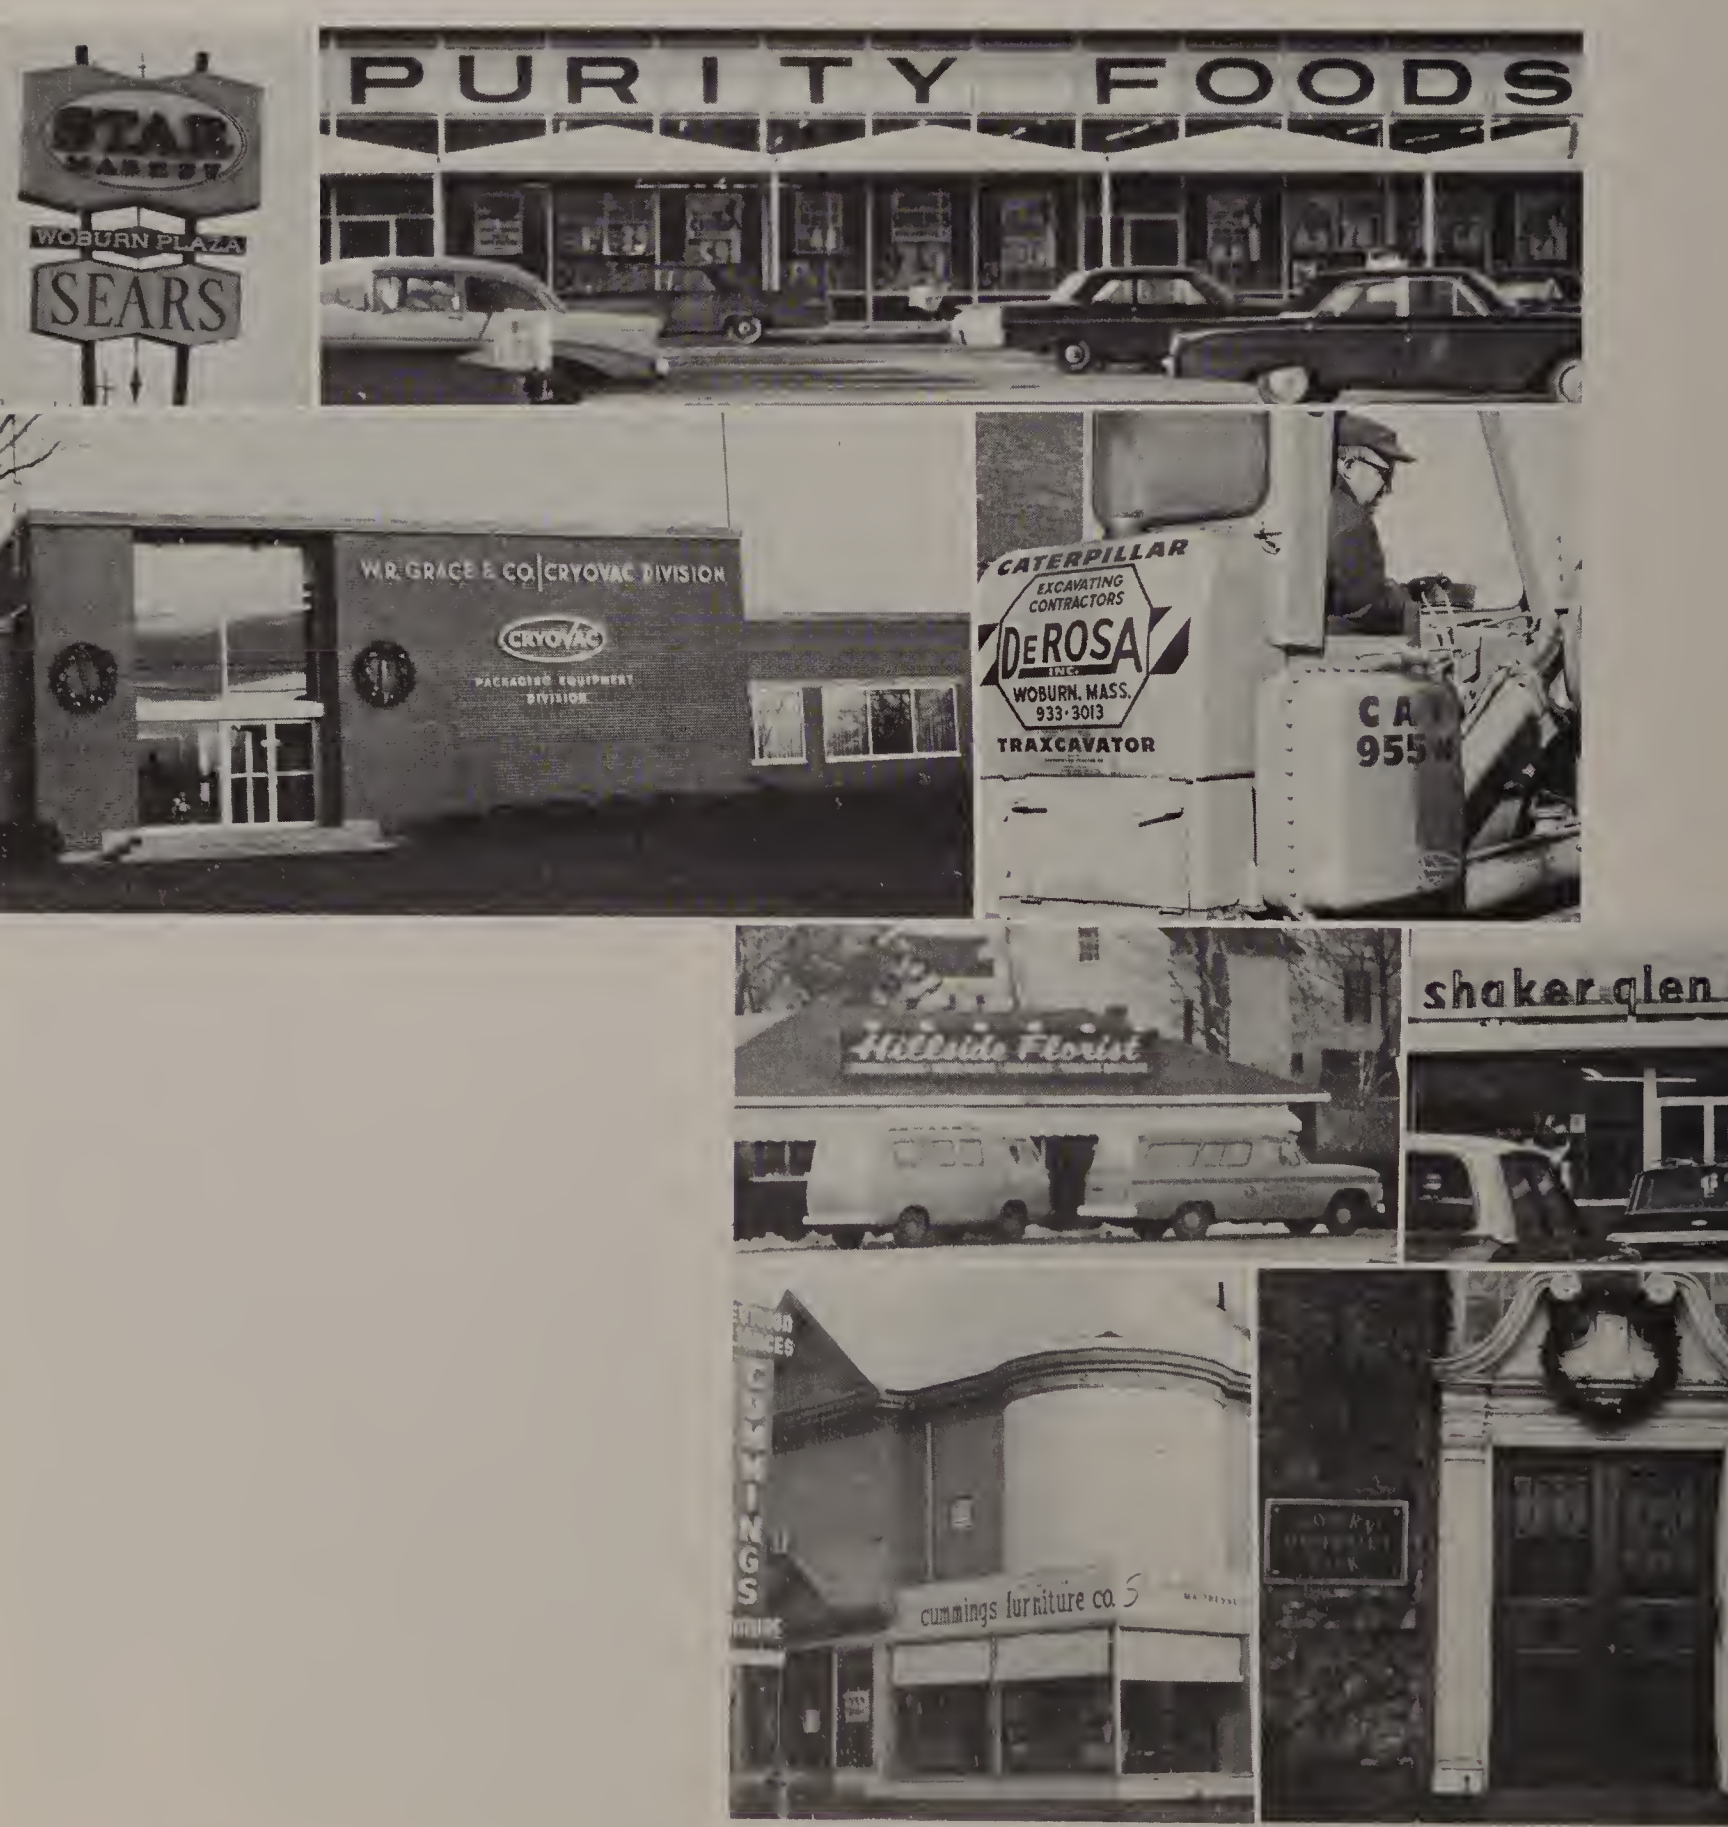

Of course, every yearbook must concern itself with publicity. To the Woburn Daily Times, therefore, we wish to express deep gratitude for the liberal amount of publicity and for the use of photographs.

We would be most careless if we failed to acknowledge the talents and efforts contributed by the following members of the INNITOU Staff: Anne Logue and Thomas Macdonald, co-editors; and Mallory Grant, art editor. Their ability and loyalty proved indispensable.

Any list of acknowledgments would be far from complete if it did not include the citizens of Woburn and the faculty of Woburn High. Citizens of Woburn, your generous support in our annual Patron and Advertising Drive played a leading role in financing this yearbook. To our Administration and faculty are given the greatest praise for their co-operation. To Mr. Frank Newark and Mr. Robert Charron, a particular note of thanks for their aid and advice with our art work.

Last, we would like to offer our most sincere appreciation to our yearbook advisors, Miss Dunsford and Mr. Curran. Their never-ending patience, loyalty, and assistance will certainly be remembered. Miss Dunsford greatly aided the literary staff with her skillful command of composition and grammar. Mr. Curran's tremendous sincerity in his efforts toward the successful publication of this volume will always be fondly remembered. Words could never express our deep and heartfelt thanks to you both.

The Staff of the 1965 INNITOU gratefully acknowledges the help of all these people who made this yearbook a reality.
